WARR NAMED OPTOMETRIST OF THE YEAR

Dr. Edgar Milton Warr of Elba was named last week as Alabama's "Optometrist of the Year" as the fifty-fifth annual convention of the Alabama Optometric Association closed its three-day session in Montgomery.

The choice brought publicity to Elba since the news received prominent accounts in the dailies in Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, and other cities. Dr. Warr was presented a plaque recognizing his services to his community, his profession and the association.

Considered in making the designation included his services as president of the Elba Chamber of Commerce, member of the Elba City Water Board, service with the association as chairman of its Public Relations committee, as a vice president, a member of its board of directors and for other activities in the association for several years in the up-building of the profession of optometry in Alabama and the nation.

Dr. Warr has been practicing his profession in Elba since 1950 when he graduated from the Southern College of Optometry, Memphis. He is past president of the Lions Club, served as a member of the Elba Board of Education, chairman of the Water and Electric Board, deacon in the First Baptist Church, Coffee County Red Cross, as chairman of the Coffee County Industrial Development Board. In optometry he specializes in visual training and contact lenses.

He is married to the former Irma Armstrong of Ashford and has two daughters, Janet and Sara.

TWO DORSEY PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

The promotion of Ben Brock and Joe DeVane was announced this week by George L. Culler, president of Dorsey Trailers.

Mr. DeVane, formerly an industrial engineer at Dorsey's, took over Mr. Brock's post of Chief Industrial Engineer while Mr. Brock was moved up to Director of Personnel and Labor Relations.

In his new capacity, Mr. Brock's responsibilities include employee hiring, employee relations, employee pay adjustments, plant safety and first aid. One of the responsibilities of the new position is to make a complete job study and evaluation of each skill used in the Dorsey plant.

This study will result in an equalization of hourly rates on like positions and like work. Mr. Brock will be responsible for exit interviews for personnel leaving the company. Employee counseling and disciplinary action and all subjects pertaining to insurance, both hospitalization and compensation, will be handled by his office.

FLACK PLANT DOUBLES ITS OUTPUT HERE

The Flack Lumber Co. is expanding operations of its Elba plant to double its number of employees from 12 to 24 or 25 men at an additional investment estimated at $40,000.

The sawmill which Flack has operated about eight miles from Elba, off the Elba-Victoria road, under contract from W. H. Wilson, is being moved to the Elba site to be operated in conjunction with a debarker, chipper and screen.

The new operation will change the type of operation which has been used in the past. Heretofore, the outside slabs of each log has been treated as debris and burned. With the purchase of the debarker, chipper and screen by Flack these slabs will have the bark peeled off and the slabs chipped into uniform sizes to be packaged and sold for papermaking.

J. H. Flack of Montgomery is owner and J. A. Gallimore is manager.

GOOD POSTURE WHILE DRIVING IS BIG FACTOR

Many complaints of fatigue, backache and the "crick in the back" are the results of poor posture habits while driving automobiles, according to a spokesman of the chiropractic profession, which is sponsoring Correct Posture Week during May 1-7.

"Most people weary of prolonged driving, even with modern advances in power steering and other new devices," said Dr. William E. Yoham of Elba. "The primary reason for this highway fatigue is nothing more than poor driving posture."

Many persons, trying to avoid fatigue, assume a slouching position while driving because they think that in this position they are more relaxed and will not tire as easily, Dr. Yoham said.

"Keeping your spine in an unnatural position for prolonged periods is contrary to body mechanics," Dr. Yoham stated. "The best position for long drives is to sit far back on the seat with the spine resting on the back of the seat. In other words, sit tall."

Correct driving posture, he added, not only will result in less fatigue after long hours behind the wheel, but also will tend to make for a more alert and better driver.

Jack Native Now Grove Hill Mayor

James R. Hurd, son of J. W. Hurd, of Jack, and who is mayor of Grove Hill, Ala., recently presided at a ground breaking ceremony for the erection of a new sewing plant at the Clarke county seat.

Miss Linda Stewart Wed at Home to Rove Hudson

The marriage of Miss Linda Stewart to Rove Hudson, beautiful in its simplicity, was solemnized at the home of the bride Monday, April 4. Miss Stewart's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Stewart and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hudson.

The ceremony took place before an improvised altar with massive ferns forming a background and flanked on either side by standard baskets of white mums and glads.

Mrs. Bobby Hudson, of Montgomery, cousin of the bride, played piano selections of wedding music preceding and during the ceremony. The traditional wedding march was used.

The bride's only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Rex Stewart.

The bride's dress of white satin with a lace overskirt and train panels down the front was floor length. The bodice with a scalloped neckline was finished with lace rosettes came to a point at the front and had sleeves which were in points at the hand. Her fingertip veil of illusion extended from a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a bridal bouquet of white flowers centered with a cluster of white orchids.

Following a wedding trip to Panama City, Fla., Mr. Hudson will leave for Hawaii on an Army assignment and Mrs. Hudson will resume her studies at Elba High School where she will graduate in May.

Livestock Health Hints

There are many of them in cattle, milk fever and ketosis, or acidosis and footrot. In swine, cholera and erysipelas. And there is a long list of others, which look almost the same, but for which care and treatment are entirely different. What the owner does in these cases can often mean the difference between losing an animal or saving one.

These boys may have cholera, or it may be erysipelas. They sometimes look alike.

Milk fever and ketosis offer good examples for the cattle owner. Both cause cows to become either excitable or indifferent, can cause some paralysis or incoordination, and animals may walk with a staggering gait.

Treatment methods for each of these diseases are somewhat similar, but the medicine used are entirely different. Many veterinarians use special injections directly into the blood stream, and cows often make quick recoveries if treatment is begun soon enough.

However, the medicine injected to cure one disease is useless for the other and vice versa.

Both cholera and acute swine erysipelas also look much alike. Hogs may play in the mud, resist disturbance, go off feed, and have a stiff gait. But, while the veterinarian can have quite a few erysipelas pigs if he gets to them soon enough, there is no cure for cholera. The only way to curb cholera is to have pigs vaccinated before outbreaks strike.

Proper care of your eyes should include a regular examination by an ethical, competent practitioner. Optometrists who are members of the American Optometric Association adhere voluntarily to a rigid code of ethics and generally conduct individual practices under their own names or partnership practices with other optometrists. They are price conscious. Do not take a chance with questionable eye care. When you try to save money by visiting a cut-rate practitioner of any kind, the quality of the service nearly always goes down. Low-grade visual service can be worse than none at all.

YOUTH should be a member of the American Optometric Association, 4000 Chouteau Ave. St. Louis 10, Missouri.

Specialist Wallace, a truck driver in the company in Worms, entered the Army in 1948 and was last stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. Wallace, son of Mrs. Narine W. Jackson, 114 Williston St., Fayetteville, N. C., attended E. E. Smith High School in Fayetteville.

There's No Such Thing As A Free Lunch

Many people neglect having their eyes examined until they are mature adults, and the majority of children entering the first grade of school have never had a professional eye examination.

Proper care of your eyes should include a regular examination by an ethical, competent practitioner. Optometrists who are members of the American Optometric Association adhere voluntarily to a rigid code of ethics and generally conduct individual practices under their own names or partnership practices with other optometrists. They are price conscious. Do not take a chance with questionable eye care. When you try to save money by visiting a cut-rate practitioner of any kind, the quality of the service nearly always goes down. Low-grade visual service can be worse than none at all.

YOUTH should be a member of the American Optometric Association, 4000 Chouteau Ave. St. Louis 10, Missouri.

Loyalists Take Lead Here In First Primary

Schools To Close Friday, May 20

Elba and Coffee county schools will close Friday, next week, with graduation exercises in the high schools set for Friday evening.

A three-month long vacation will start for about 1,500 students in Elba City Schools and another 2,000 students in the county school system on Sunday.

In the county school system 95 students will graduate from the high schools, 143 from junior high and 238 from sixth grade, while in the county colored schools 12 will graduate from New Brockton Colored High School, 29 from the ninth grades and 45 from the sixth grades.

The Elba High School will graduate 68 students while 90 will move up to Junior High and Superintendent S. J. Casey said the outlook for overworked classrooms next year is optimistic.

Graduation exercises at Elba High will begin next Sunday with baccalaureate services in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Minister Paul Simon, of the Church of Christ, Milton, Fla., will deliver the sermon.

Diplomas will be presented at final graduation exercises at Elba High on Friday, May 20, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium to 41 girls and 27 boys. Lt. Col. Albert C. Karsell, of Maxwell AFB, Montgomery, will deliver the commencement address.

Elba Colored School has an enrollment of 330 and 23 will graduate from high school at graduation exercises Thursday, April 19, in the school auditorium with Prof. H. L. Curtis, retired, of Laverne, as the speaker. Emma Brown is valedictorian and Sarah Band is salutatorian.

SENIORS ARE IN MIDST OF SOCIAL WHIRL

The 68 members of this year's Senior class at Elba High are in the midst of a round of social activities incident to graduation with the next event being the annual Class Picnic at Lake Geneva Friday.

The Junior Class honored the graduating seniors at the annual Junior - Senior banquet recently in the cafeteria decorated in the Mardi Gras theme. Bobby Inman, Junior class president, served as toastmaster and gave the welcome address. Glenn Hudson, president of the Seniors, gave the response. Superintendent S. J. Casey gave the invocation.

The evening's program consisted of songs, dances and skits in night club style. On the program were Caria Cook, Sara Warr, Janet Warr, Henriette Dorsey, Yvonne Bryan, Larry Wise, Martha Cooper, Elia Kate Allen, Mary John Smith, Wayne Taylor, Mike Fick, Elmer Twilley, Jimmy Sanders and Bobby Inman.

Following the banquet a prom was held in the cafeteria with refreshments served by parents of the Juniors. Special guests included members of the faculty and school board and their families.

The annual Senior play "The Little Shepherd of Kinsom" was presented in the high school auditorium last Friday under direction of Mrs. Ola B. Kendrick and Mrs. Helen McCollough, class sponsor. It was a three-act comedy with a cast including Mike Corbett, William Brown, Suzanne Haywood, Sandra Farris, Patsy McCord, Helen Cowen, Lavenia Holloway, Glenn Hudson, Olive Curley, Rhettia Ann Crook and Terrell Jeffcoat.

Alabamian Liquor Sales Increase

MONTGOMERY - New liquor taxes continue to produce more revenue for the state's education, mental health and old age pension programs.

In March, gross sales in Alabama Alcoholic Beverage Control Board stores were up by more than one-fourth million dollars over March, 1959, according to ABE Board Administrator Edward J. Azar.

The 3 per cent sales tax for education, which was imposed last October, brought in $85,544 during March.

ABC sales showed a net surplus of $59,117 in that month, which was split between the mental and old age pension programs. Each received $29,558 for the month.

Gross receipts in March totaled $4,283,074 as compared with $3,930,458 a year ago.

Recital Scheduled At Kinston High

Joe L. Martin, piano and voice teacher at Kinston High School, will present 23 piano and voice pupils in a recital at 8 p.m. Friday, May 13.

Mr. Martin will also present the Kinston High School Glee Club in a short selection of numbers by Sigmund Romberg.

It would do the world good if every man in it would compel himself occasionally to be absolutely alone.

—Bruce Barton.

Senior Play To Be Today at Kinston

The Senior Class of Kinston High School will present the Senior play "The Little Shepherd of Kinsom" Thursday, May 12, at 7:30 p.m. The play is under direction of Coach Cretin Farris. Student director is Mary Matthews.

The cast: Aunt Samantha, Hilda Holley; Serena Simpkins, Martha Corron; Sophie Simpkins, May Joyce Phillips; Polly Paine, Peggy Wise; Annie Ambrose, Carolyn A. d. a. n. s. i. Blanche Brewer, Betty Joyce Bardo; Lucien Littlefield, Gus Farris; Blair Boswell, Jack Arthur Ezell; Frank Fairfield, Paul Ware; Lawrence Lovewell, Earl Davis; and Buddy Baskins, Ellis Davis.

Firemen Answer But One Call in 3 Mos.

Congratulations to the people of Elba were extended yesterday by the Elba Volunteer Fire Department through Fire Chief Bob Folsom for the "excellent fire record in Elba."

There has been only one fire in Elba in the last three months and this was a residential fire in the home of Roy T. King, King, a Montgomery druggist, ran third in the hot race for President of the Public Service Commission.

BORDERS RECOVERING

R. R. Borders, of Smith Avenue, is recovering from injuries suffered April 13 while working with Jordan Lindsey in demolishing a building belonging to Lindsey, off the Troy highway, when the roof fell on him while he was removing the flooring. He suffered three broken ribs, an injured hip and cuts on the head.

Pepper Endorsed By Late Opponent

Ed Pepper, candidate for President of the Alabama Public Service Commission, received a big boost toward his election when he was endorsed by Roy T. King, King, a Montgomery druggist, ran third in the hot race for President of the Public Service Commission.

HARRISON REUNION

The Harrison reunion will be held Sunday, May 22, at New Home Church.

WINS AWARD—

Patricia Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hayes of New Brockton, who has been chosen as New Brockton High School representative to Girls State at Huntington College.

Delegates—

Delegates to Girls and Boys State were selected at a meeting of Culver Post No. 42, American Legion, last week. They are, from left to right: Charlotte Meek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Meek of Route 1, Elba; Janet Warr, (alternate) daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. M. Warr of Elba; and Yvonne Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Bryan of Elba. Back row: Jimmy Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fuller of Elba, and Robert Russell, son of Mrs. Robert Russell of Elba. Visiting Legionnaires present for the competition were Commander and Mrs. W. A. Newsome of Enterprise, Mrs. Emory Bass, state president of the Legion Auxiliary, of Dothan, and Mrs. Virginia Folger, Ninth District Auxiliary President, of Headland.

Jim Folsom Still Packs Big Wallop

The official canvass of the first Democratic primary last week showed:

(1) Precinct: Loyalist Folsom still packs a wallop here when Ed Pepper, with Folsom's endorsement, came near to a two-to-one majority over the combined vote of his three opponents.

(2) Former - Governor: Jim Folsom still packs a wallop here when Ed Pepper, with Folsom's endorsement, came near to a two-to-one majority over the combined vote of his three opponents.

(3) Elba's Lewey Stephens won a trip as delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles.

(4) A pre-election forecast that Fred Meacham would win Enterprise against Flournoy Whitman failed to place.

The highest vote given either candidate for elector in Coffee county went to C. G. Allen, a Loyalist, and of the top 11 candidates for electors, Loyalists carried seven and State's Righters four. None of the pledged candidates for electors were in the top 11 in this county.

Votes for Electors

Total votes for the top 11 candidates for electors in this county were as follows, in the order named: Allen, Loyalist, 2,220; Bruce Henderson, State's Rights, 2,169; J. E. Brantley, Loyalist, 2,141; W. W. Malone, Moore, vice president, Mrs. Betty English, secretary, and Mrs. Bonneau Rowe, treasurer. The retiring officers were given a vote of thanks.

The first meeting of the new year will be the first Tuesday in October.
